

LEGISLATURE IN SESSION

ALAMEDA COUNTY'S DELEGATES

New Measures Are to Be Introduced by Them.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—Senator Leavitt of Oakland, Senator Hartman of San Francisco, Senator Belshaw of Antioch, as well as several other members of the upper house of the Legislature, are not satisfied with the quarters in which the Senate is expected to deliberate during the next ten weeks. Senator Leavitt wants to have an architect who has had nothing to do with the designing or construction of the building, the new one of the Red Men of this city, pass upon the strength and safety of the structure. He favors the employment of an architect from San Francisco, who has thus far not seen the building, and who as yet knows nothing of its construction. Senator Hartman wants more lights put in, as also a pair of steps leading to galleries outside the building at various stories as fire escapes. Senator Hartman declares that he fears to risk his life in the structure.

He made this declaration today, after bending his knees and then quickly resuming an upright position, stating at the same time that the building, or floor, shook behind him. Resolutions embodying these objections and calling for remedial action were today introduced in the Senate. Regardless of this fact, however, the representatives of the Red Men say the building is as solid as a rock, and that there is no more strongly constructed building in Sacramento. The Red Men's building, in which the Senate and Assembly are meeting, is located at Tenth street, between I and J. It is constructed of concrete blocks and contains seven floors and a basement. In the latter are located the hierom of the Assembly and the headquarters of some of the attaches of that body. On the floor above is located the Assembly. The Senate is located on the top floor. The intervening floors are divided into committee rooms. From the floor of the Senate a view of the surrounding country may be obtained.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT BY PARDEE

The Retiring Governor Tells of His Future Plans.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—Governor George C. Pardee today authorized THE TRIBUNE to make the following statement regarding himself upon his approaching retirement from the office of chief executive of the State and the course he is to pursue after his return to private life:

"When I retire from the office of Governor of the State of California, I shall probably soon resume the practice of my profession and shall take up my residence at the old home on the corner of Eleventh and Castro streets, Oakland.

"I shall welcome the change because it will afford an opportunity for rest after four years of strenuous effort in behalf of the business of the State.

"I leave the office of Governor, which I consider one of the most honorable which could be held by any man, with no regrets.

"I have striven to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

"How well I have succeeded, I shall leave the people of the State to determine.

"During the past four years, I have had no ambition save to advance the interests of the great State of California.

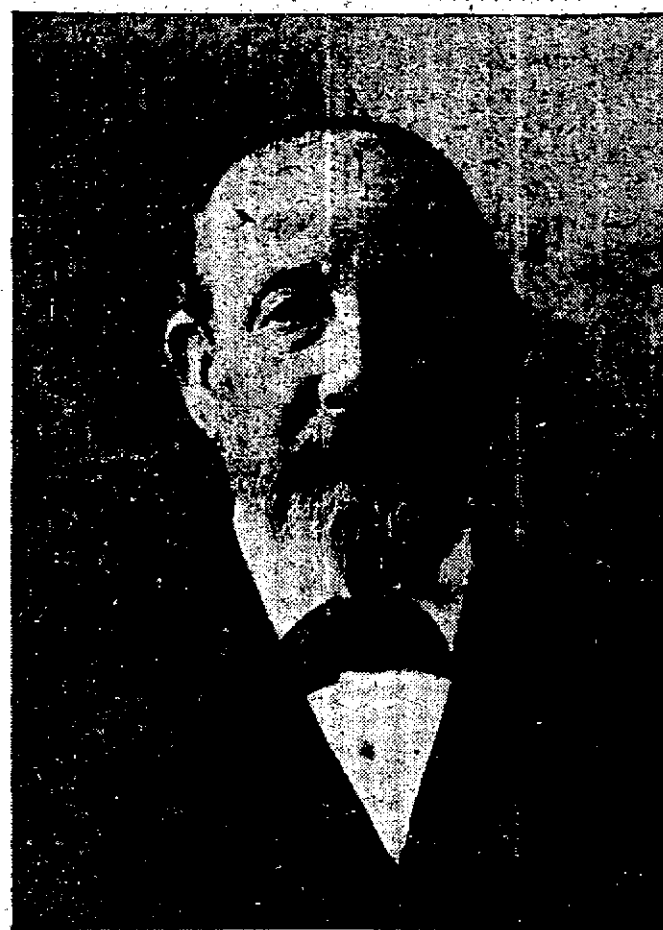

"For the loyal support which I have received from the Legislature, I am deeply grateful.

"The kindly appreciation which has been expressed, in many instances, for my efforts in behalf of the State will not soon be forgotten.

"California is enjoying an era of prosperity and it is my hope that she may continue to advance and thus realize the hopes of the hardy, industrious and fearless pioneers who made her name famous in all parts of the world.

"GEORGE C. PARDEE, Governor."

R. S. FARRELLY DIES FROM HIS INJURIES

THE LATE R. S. FARRELLY.

The Well-Known Pioneer Passes Away at Home Near San Leandro.

Robert S. Farrelly, the well-known banker, and one of Alameda county's wealthiest citizens, passed away at his home near San Leandro at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, from the effects of injuries received in a fall downstairs Friday, in which three of his ribs were fractured, puncturing the lung.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Farrelly was on his way to a directors' meeting of the Union National and Farmers & Merchants Bank, in both of which he is a director. In descending a stairway from the Farmers & Merchants into the Union National Bank, Mr. Farrelly tripped and fell to the bottom of the stairs, a distance of about fifteen feet. It was thought at first he was not injured. One physician said he only had a sprained thumb. He was given medical attention and was later removed to his home, where Dr. George L. Coleman was called to attend him. On account of his advanced age, nearly 84 years, and the seriousness of his injuries, no hope was held out by the physician for his recovery. Dr. S. H. Buteau was called in consultation, but despite the efforts of the two physicians, the aged banker succumbed.

COMES WEST.

Mr. Farrelly was born in Parkersburg, Pennsylvania, February 24, 1824. He was reared and educated in Philadelphia, and at the age of 17 he learned the carpenter's trade. While still a youth the stories of California's wonders and attractions induced themselves into his heart, and he saved and planned with the view of some day coming west. Two days after his twenty-fifth birthday, on February 26, 1849, having enlisted as a member of a company intending to go to California, he joined them in chartering a schooner to carry them to Tampico, Mexico. He and four of his companions, including J. R. West, afterwards United States senator, were among the first to advance age, nearly 84 years, and the

SESSION OPENED TODAY

Many Members Fail to Appear.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—When the California Legislature convened in Redmen's Hall here shortly after the noon hour today for its thirty-seventh session, it was with the intentions of putting through the following program, which had been decided upon at the numerous caucuses held this morning.

Eighty members of the assembly are Republicans, and the "machine" is declared to be one of the strongest of recent sessions.

In the Senate E. J. Wolfe, of San Francisco, was unanimously selected for president pro tem. For secretary of the Senate, Lewis A. Hilborn was the choice. J. L. Martin of Oakland will act as sergeant-at-arms. D. G. Holt, who has acted as minute clerk in several sessions, was reappointed for the same office, but refused and G. Ray Horton of Santa Monica, was nominated to succeed him.

LOBBIES FILLED.

The lobbies of the Senate were filled as early as 1 o'clock, although no caucuses were held until some time later. An effort is being made in the Senate to increase the patronage from $20 per diem, which has prevailed at the majority of the previous sessions, to $25, but it is hardly probable that this amount will be sanctioned by the majority of members. The rumors were strong enough, however, to cause comment among the many waiting for appointments.

It was evident that those soliciting patronage were ready to take advantage of any increase that might be effected, although the fear that the more conservative minds would rule kept them from expressing their joy at the probabilities of such an amount.

A surprise was sprung in the Assembly in the appointment to Speaker of R. L. Beardslee of Stockton. Although he was spoken of for the office, it was thought that the appointment would go to A. M. Drew of Fresno. J. P. Tranter of Los Angeles was the choice for Speaker Pro Tem. G. Lloyd of San Francisco was the "machine" man for chief clerk, and Jack Starnoff of Sacramento will act as sergeant-at-arms.

Neither house decided upon a chaplain at any of the caucuses this morning and no names have been presented. Although both houses will find themselves a little crowded in their quarters in Red Men's Hall, ample room has been provided for the carrying on of the most essential business.

WOMEN PRESENT.

The lobbies are exceedingly small, but the fact did not interrupt the usual lobbyists and bungalowers from finding a place to keep in out of the drizzling rain that fell during the forenoon. A great many women were among those waiting for patronage and from the present demand for outside assistance it looks

GIRL'S MOTHER WOULD DROP ABDUCTION CHARGES

Harry Holly Is Not Afraid to Face Trial for Kidnaping the Cunningham Girl.

Harry Holly, the young clubman who is held before the Superior Court on the charge of kidnaping pretty Estelle Cunningham, was in the best of spirits this morning when he came before Judge Harris for arraignment, but owing to the absence of his attorney, the case had to be passed until next Monday. One of his attorneys, Col. W. H. O'Brien, notified the other, W. H. Kiley, to be on hand this morning, but after a wait for a half an hour, neither gentleman put in an appearance, so next Monday was the day set for the arraignment of the alleged abductor of the pretty young lady.

When asked if he had heard the report that Mrs. Cunningham was desirous of having the charges dropped, he said that he had been told of the parent's request, and that he expected such a move was on foot.

"Mrs. Cunningham has found that she has bitten off more than she can swallow," as the old saying goes, said Mr. Holly, when seen in the county jail this morning. "The mother is quite anxious to have the matter discharged, and I have been informed that she would like to take her daughter and leave the country before the case comes up in the Superior Court, but, of course, that is impossible. Miss Cunningham has refused to go with her mother and attempt to avoid being a witness."

LIKES COUNTY JAIL.

The former clubman says that his confinement in the county jail is a pleasant change from the imprisonment in the city bastille. "I have had fair treatment in this place," said the prisoner, indicating the brick wall of the prison, "but in the city jail I was locked up in a dingy cell without an opportunity to keep clean. The privilege of a bath was denied me, and when I came from the place I was covered with vermin."

Holly mentioned his wife in the conversation and stated that she is now away as a preliminary for a divorce action. "I told her that either she or I could bring about the suit. It is understood between us that as soon as the year is up an action will be commenced for the legal separation on the grounds of desertion. I do not hear from her. As far as the existing relationship between us is concerned, it is only a matter of time before we will seek the courts to dissolve the matrimonial bonds that seem to play such an important part in some people's minds."

Mrs. Holly is now traveling in China and Asia with a party of friends.

AGED WOMAN NEAR DEATH IN HER BURNING HOME

Member of the Family of the Rev. Henry Wintler Rescued, but House Is Almost Destroyed.

In a fire which almost destroyed the home of Rev. Henry Wintler at 9th and Cherry streets, about 5:30 o'clock this morning, an aged woman, a member of the family, narrowly escaped being burned to death. The unfortunate lady, in endeavoring to escape from the burning building, fell down the stairs, and was rescued from danger by several men who went to her assistance.

The members of the Wintler family were all asleep when the fire broke out, and were awakened by the smoke and noise made by the flames. The house is a two-story structure, and before the fire department was called, the flames had gained great headway. Consternation reigned in the household and all attempted to rush from the burning structure. It happened that the children were not at home. The aged woman, who fell from the second-story down the stairs, was saved, however, by the firemen. The loss to the Wintler home is estimated at about $500.

a simple remedy for liver trouble and biliousness

The liver is a wonderful organ always at work filtering purifying and manufacturing the ingredients necessary to life. It is the central laboratory of the body. It plays the part of a natural poison antidote. The poison contained in a food composing food and waste of the body are arrested by it and its juices. The liver is the seat of manufacture of bile, a fluid that acts as a solvent and aids to digest food. Healthy bile is an antiseptic and when deficient or absent the contents of the bowels become putrid and full of poisonous matter. You can always keep your liver in a healthy condition by using Dr. Edwards' Compound Dandelion Tablets or Pills. They act directly upon the liver and produce a healthy flow of bile.

GRAVE DIGGER'S BAD BLUNDER

Man Who Had Dug Many Graves Digs His Own Too Short for Coffin.

LEBANON Jan 7--Although the late Benjamin Elestein of this city dug an almost countless number of graves during the many years in which he followed the business, here he never made a more serious blunder than in preparing for his own.

His body was interred in a grave made by his own hands according to his own ideas on the Elestein plot in the Moravian cemetery. Hebron, Elestein completed his grave some months ago.

He selected a narrow strip of ground between other occupant graves on the plot and lined it with cement. When the undertaker took measurements of the corpse and grave he was confronted with Elestein's error. The measurements disclosed the grave to be scarcely large enough to permit of the body being lowered into it.

Therefore the coffin had to be specially made and the customary rough oak dispensed with. Elestein had taken a true measurement of his own body in digging the grave allowing nothing for coffin and rough box.

NEW FRIEND A HORSE THIEF

Noted Crook Treats Farmer to Drink and Raps Him of Horse and Rig

CHESTER Pa Jan 7--John Collins an alleged notorious horse thief sold to be wanted by the Philadelphia and Wilmington authorities. He was arrested late night charged with stealing a horse and carriage from George Thomas a Chelsea farmer. At a hearing before Magistrate Elliott this morning he was committed in default of $1000 bail for trial at the March term of criminal court.

According to the evidence Collins made the acquaintance of Thomas in this city yesterday and drove with him to the Black Horse Hotel in the northwest corner of the city. While in the barroom Collins excused himself saying he would return in a few minutes.

After waiting a considerable length of time Thomas thinking his new-found friend was waiting outside went to the stable yard and discovered that his team and Collins were missing.

Late at night Collins entered the Bow Creek Hotel of which Frank Nothingale is proprietor and the latter became suspicious of Collins actions.

A short time later Nothingale received information of the horse theft together with a description of Collins. Nothingale took charge of the man and accompanying him to friends started with him to this city. They are met on the way by policemen into whose custody the prisoner was given.

Among the witnesses at this morning's hearing was Special Officer Ford of Philadelphia who identified Collins as a man who had sold him a horse and wagon which he had been accused of stealing. Ford was also received by the local police from the Wilmington authorities asking that Collins be held until the arrival of Chief of Police Black, as it was believed the prisoner is the same man charged with stealing three teams from Delaware farmers.

SON ACCUSES OWN FATHER

Herman Billick Says Parent Hypnotized Woman to Make Her Turn on Gas.

CHICAGO Jan 7--Herman Billick Jr son of Herman Billick, the hypnotist charged with poisoning six members of the Vrsal family, told Inspector Shippy today that he saw Mrs Vrsal, the mother turn out the gas at his father's bidding, and leave it escaping to asphyxiate Ella and Bertha, two of her children who were asleep.

He said that the attempt on the Vrsal children's lives was made about October 29. Young Billick said that a window was open in another part of the house which saved the children's lives by letting the gas escape.

The children died later and poison has been found in their bodies.

Young Billick has also connected his father with the death in Cleveland of Standish York, a wealthy hardware merchant.

The boy said that his father knew Mrs York and that after York's death was on two occasions paid $3000 by the widow.

A. E. DAVIS IS SUMMONED

Well-Known Pioneer Passes Away at Alameda Home

ALAMEDA Jan 7--Alfred E. Davis one of the pioneer railroad builders of this State died at the home of his son-in-law Frank D. Wright, at 644 Taylor avenue last night, without having been attended by a physician. This morning an autopsy was performed which showed that Davis suffered from tuberculosis and that the valves on the left side of the heart had become ossified.

Mr Davis came to California by way of Cape Horn in 1849. He settled in San Francisco and later went to mining. For a number of years he resided in Newark in this county, and was known to almost every resident. At the time of his death he was seventy-nine years of age. He was a member of the California Pioneers Association.

Thirty years ago Davis started construction on the South Pacific Coast Railroad which he later sold to James G. Fair. The road then extended from Dunbarton Point to San Jose. Later Fair made this city the terminus of the road. Davis was interested in the railroad up to about twenty years ago when he disposed of his interest and retired. Since then he took no active part in financial affairs.

Thirteen years ago his wife died in San Francisco. There is but one surviving child Mrs Frank Wright of this city. Up to April of last year Davis resided in San Francisco but lost his home in the conflagration. He came to Alameda in April and despite the change in his health continued to toil. He steadfastly refused to allow a physician to attend him and passed away while seated on a couch in his bedroom. Six months ago he was taken suddenly ill but recovered in a few days and despite the wishes of his daughter would not see a doctor. It was the intention of Mrs Wright to call in a physician this morning but her father died before the plan could be put into effect.

Davis was an associate of Fair and Flood in many of their ventures. He accumulated about a half-million dollars during his lifetime.

Willie and the Beautiful Snow

Oh, I tell you, California is a jim dandy when she gets started, and Sunday I went out on the hills and rolled around in the beautiful snow 4 inches deep. What a time I had, and what a lot of good exercise. Red cheeks, wet skin, muddy feet, but what did I care. I was in it to my neck, and when I went and carried about a ton of the stuff 5 miles to show it to my friends who had never seen any snow, and today I am laid up with the croup and sore throat.

Well, if an overcoat don't strike you about right I will give up my guess. Gee but we shouldn't have one left by tonight and I guess we won't. Hurry for sunshine says

BANK TELLER IS HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 7.—William H. White, paying teller of the Canton National Bank, was arrested at his country home at Halethorpe on the charge of embezzlement.

Through the specific charge is the embezzlement of $1000 on January 7, 1905, the peculations are said to have extended over several years and to aggregate $5000.

White is reported to have confessed to Detective Weaver, who made the arrest, insisting, however, that not one penny of the money went in speculation.

"It was all spent on my home," he is quoted as saying. "I guess I lived beyond my means."

He says his friends will make up the shortage. White has been connected with the bank for fourteen years, and has been paying teller for six years.

"There's a Reason"

NEW SUPERVISOR TAKES UP DUTIES OF OFFICE

SUPERVISOR JOHN MITCHELL.

The Board of Supervisors was reorganized today, and Supervisor John Mitchell was re-elected chairman of the board. This is the fourth time Mr. Mitchell has been elected to this important position. Mr. Mitchell has been a member of the Board of Supervisors for the past ten years, and during that time he has given the closest attention to all the affairs of the county. He has been on all the important committees of the Board of Supervisors, and he has devoted several hours of his time every day to county affairs.

Mr. Mitchell's colleagues realize that in him they have an efficient public servant, and for this reason they got together and decided to re-elect him to the most important position in the county, to-wit: chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Mitchell has made one of the best presiding officers that ever sat at the head of the Board of Supervisors. He dispatches business with quickness and finds time to attend nearly all the committee meetings. Not a dollar is spent by the Board of Supervisors that is not looked after by Mr. Mitchell in one way or another.

H. B. Bridge Now an Active Member of the Board--Reorganization for the Year's Work.

The special features of the weekly session of the Board of Supervisors this morning was the induction into office of Supervisor W. B. Bridge, as the successor of Supervisor Talcott, and the reorganization of the board for the ensuing year. President Mitchell was re-elected, but the naming of the new committees, which President Mitchell reports will be practically the same as before, was reserved until the afternoon session.

After the reading of the minutes, Supervisor Rowe's inventory of property belonging to the county was filed; also, the same supervisor's report of assistance extended to seventy-three indigents during December, aggregating $162.

Steward Borchert, of the Receiving hospital, reported admitting 200 patients during last month. One died, eight were sent to the infirmary and five remain. Total number of services, 603.

Coroner-elect Charles L. Tisdale's resignation as physician of the county jail was accepted, to take effect from January 7, 1907.

Justice Quinn filed with the board his regular monthly report.

Supervisor Talcott reported that he had rendered assistance during last month to thirty-eight indigents, the total amount disbursed being $78.50.

A resolution was adopted by unanimous vote authorizing the payment of $16,100 to the Ransome Construction Company for a pipe line along the new boulevard road.

Monthly reports of roadmasters E. R. Johnson, of Bolonaria, W. E. Bridge, of Fruitvale, Frank H. Sayles of Newark, Antonio George Jr., Alvarado, J. J. Santos of Centerville, S. F. Morrill of Piedmont and J. H. Whitfield, were all filed.

The question of the Piedmont incorporation came up again on the reading of a resolution which had been prepared and submitted by the petitioners.

Mr. Valentine, representing the petitioners for an incorporation elective, said that while he and his associates had prepared the resolution, it was done at the request and authorization of the district attorney.

John R. Glascock, who represented the Merchants' Exchange and the Chamber of Commerce, inquired if it was not true that Mr. Allen had told them that it was a matter which did not concern his office or come within the line of his duties, but that any one could draw up such a resolution.

Valentine said a copy of the resolution as prepared had been left with Mr. Allen a week ago, and he had heard nothing of it since.

Mr. Glascock said that District Attorney Allen had gone over the law carefully with himself and he understood him to say, as the result of the investigation, that the annexation proceedings took precedence.

As District Attorney Allen's term expired at noon, action was postponed until the incorporation resolution until that hour, to give him an opportunity to report before his retirement from office. President Mitchell ruling that in the event of Allen's failure to report the Board's reference of the subject to the district attorney for his opinion, should become an official legacy of Allen's successor.

The application of I. M. Anderson for a license to sell liquor at San Leandro road and Saratoga avenue, and of Jos. H. Hasson and George Costin of Newark for a similar license to sell liquor there were allowed, no protestants appearing.

After a short recess the petition of the Piedmonters for an incorporation election was again called up.

Supervisor Rowe took the ground that the matter should not be longer delayed, and that inasmuch as the board was merely a legislative body and not a judicial one, and that the matter, however settled, would be sure to be carried into the courts, he moved the adoption of the resolution fixing Saturday, January 26, as the day for holding an incorporation election in Piedmont.

The motion was seconded by Supervisor Horner.

President Mitchell thought that the proper thing to do was to delay action until the report of the outgoing dis-

DEATH CAUSED BY A REFUSAL

Man Drops Dead After Being Refused Loan of a Hundred Dollars.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—For a time yesterday it was thought that a man who dropped dead in the Glisby House soon after he left the breakfast room was a brother of William H. Moody, the Attorney-General of the United States, now named for the Supreme Court by President Roosevelt. Later it was learned that the man, Benjamin E. Moody, was no relation to the cabinet officer.

A pass on the N. Y. N. H. & H. road made out for an employee and other letters in regard to railroad business found in Moody's pockets indicate he was a railroad man.

Moody went to the Glisby House nine days ago and obtained several remittances from Washington. On Saturday he tried to borrow $100 from the proprietor and failed. Then he called up Washington on the long distance phone and talked with some one at No. 1419 B street, N. W. He seemed disappointed after this talk.

There was no man for him yesterday when the letters were brought from the post-office. He was on his way out of the hotel when he fell dead.

Dr. Fleming, the hotel physician, said Moody had died of heart disease. In his pockets were pawn tickets showing he had been in pretty hard luck.

Friends at the Washington address telegraphed later in the day for a Jersey City undertaker to take charge of the body.

GIRL SUICIDES AFTER FORGING A CHECK

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—Had Arthur M. Span, sweetheart of Ethel Gertrude Fervor, and Detective George Cole reached the apartments of the girl two minutes before they did arrive here last Friday the young woman probably would be living at this time.

It was learned today that Miss Fervor, who was secretary to Span, a dermatologist, and who committed suicide after she had forged her employer's checks, saw the girl just after she had written two pathetic letters—one to Span, the other to her mother.

In addition to this, had Cole not accompanied Span, the latter undoubtedly soon would be indicted for the murder of the girl, as his relations with her were known. They were to be married in a short time. Cole and Span entered the young woman's room just two minutes after she had fired a bullet into her brain. The revolver lay, still smoking, under her lifeless hand.

Chief of Police Egan said today that only the presence of Cole saved Pittsburgh from a tedious, intricate "murder" mystery. Cole had gone to the house to arrest Miss Fervor.

Schilling's Best is elected by popular vote.

Kelly, Horner, Noes—President Mitchell and Trot.

J. J. Muller, C. K. Koolhaas, representing the Fruitvale incorporators, asked the privilege of submitting a similar resolution in behalf of his clients, and asked an election to determine whether Fruitvale should be incorporated.

It was agreed that he should present such a resolution next Monday.

An application of the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company for a franchise on the new bridge on avenue was adopted by unanimous vote.

The hour for the dissolution of the board having arrived, Supervisor Talcott arose and said he esteemed it a privilege and a pleasure to introduce his successor, Mr. Bridge, with whom all were well acquainted.

During the twelve years he had held office in the board he had been treated with uniform courtesy by all and he asked that his successor be accorded the same kind and generous treatment.

The board then adjourned sine die. The new board met at one o'clock and the clerk proceeded to organize it.

The first call was for the election of chairman.

Supervisor Rowe nominated Mr. Bridge. Supervisor Bridge-I respectfully decline the nomination.

Supervisor Kelley nominated Mr. Mitchell.

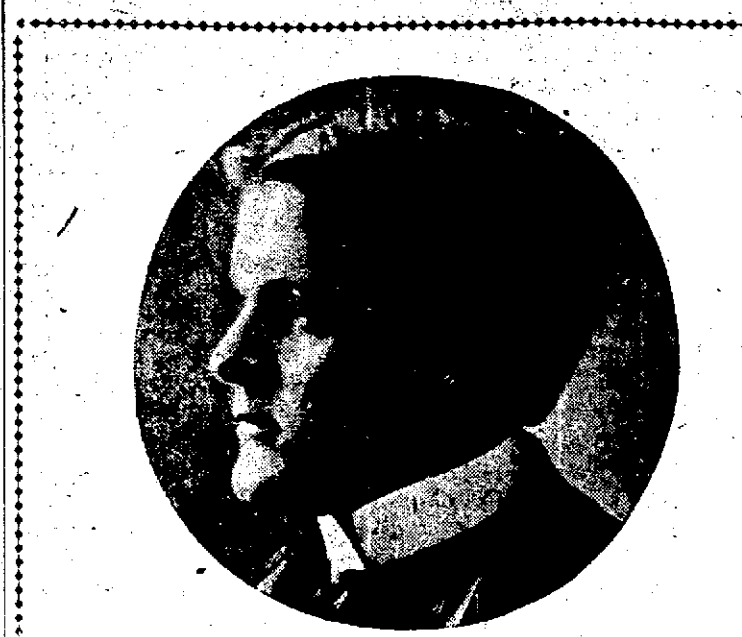

Nominations were then closed and Mitchell was re-elected by the votes of Kelley, Horner and Bridge. Rowe voting for Bridge, and Mitchell excusing himself from voting.

President Mitchell thanked the board for electing him its chairman for the fourth time, and also for the great courtesy with which he had been treated in the past six years, and wished that his new relations would be equally pleasant in the future.

The board then took a recess until 3 p. m. and the committees and appointments will be made.

HEAVY RAINS IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—A heavy rain has fallen in Los Angeles and Southern California since Saturday. The precipitation for the storm has been 2.03 inches, making a total for the season of 8.04 compared to 3.26 for the same period last year. The heavy rain has done very little damage and all interests are gratified by the accumulation of water which means much for the welfare of this section.

ALAMEDA'S DELEGATES

The accommodations of the Senate are much more liberal than are those of the Assembly, but there is little room for the lobby when the space outside the rail station is compared with that which would be enjoyed in the old railroad Capitol. The Senate has only forty members, while the Assembly has twice that number. Yet in the former place there is room for only a single line of chairs, and in the latter only two. It is clear that line is done away with. To give the public some opportunity to witness the deliberations of both bodies a gallery has been erected in each house, but neither of these can easily accommodate more than a few people. The lobbyist must, therefore, do his work outside the halls of legislation.

ALAMEDA HAS BEST SEATS.
In the Senate, the best seats are occupied by members of the Alameda county delegation. The desks are divided into three columns. The middle column is of single, while the outer columns are of double file. The first desk in the middle column is that of Senator Mattos of Alameda county, while on the same line in the double column to the right is the desk of Senator Leavitt of Oakland. Senator Leavitt's next-door neighbor is Sen-for Wolfe of San Francisco. Immediately behind Leavitt is the seat of Senator Webb, but this will be surrendered to Senator Lukens when the latter returns from the Orient, whether he went for the purpose of seeking recuperation after his recent injury in an automobile accident. The seat of Senator Bates is on the third row, but on the opposite side of the chamber.

In the House, the same distinction has been shown the members of the Alameda county delegation. Assemblymen Walsh and Eshelman occupy seats in the second row, almost under the gavel of the speaker. Immediately behind them are the seats of Assemblymen Burke and Stetson and behind these are the seats of Assemblymen Otis and Strobridge. Assemblyman Haus' seat is on the first row, but in the column facing the wall. All are within easy reach of the Assemblyman Eshelman says he will present and advocate an anti-race-track bill. This measure, he says, will attack pool-selling, but not horse-racing. He will also present a bill repealing compulsory vaccination of children, adding a provision for the liability of employers to injured employees, and the usual bills for the assistance of the University of California.

Assemblyman Burke will present a measure aiming to put policemen on a salary scale, and bills regarding promotion and tenure of office.

Assemblyman Storobridge will introduce bills along educational lines, but the exact nature of these has not been determined.

Senator Bates will advocate the ratification of the charter of Alameda, which was recently adopted.

Senator Maitos will introduce a bill requiring maps of additions to be made reformer's office. This, he says, is necessary, because descriptions are frequently destroyed by the obliteration of figures on paper maps.

Pleas of not guilty to charges of disturbing the peace were entered this morning in department one of the police court by Louis Christie, a car-

TAKES POSITION IN FAR EAST

Graduate of the University of California Leaves for China.

BERKELEY, Jan. 7.—C. W. Batdorf, who was graduated from the university with the class of 1906, has accepted a position as teacher of sciences in the Imperial School at Chen-tu, twelve miles up the Yang-tse river, and has left for that place.

The young scholar's trip will take him first to Seattle, where he will call on the steamship Minnesota for Shanghai. Thence he will go by boat up the Yang-tse river into the heart of the great Asian empire.

As a mark of their confidence in Mr. Batdorf's ability—a confidence inspired by the testimonials given the young man by his instructors in the university at Berkeley—the government entrusted him with the purchase of a complete library of standard books for the science library of the school. These books were ordered by Mr. Batdorf through F. E. Snider, the local bookman, and are now consigned to the far-away center of learning.

Mr. Batdorf took many honors for brilliant scholarship while a student at Berkeley, and besides found time to take active interest in the work of the college. Mr. C. A., especially in the department of Bible study. He is a student volunteer—which means that he is at any time subject to call to the mission field. In the present instance, however, his work will not be missionary in character. From Tuesday to Saturday of last week he was in attendance at the College Y. M. C. A. conference at Pacific Grove and was one of the speakers at that gathering.

Mr. Batdorf's contract with the Imperial school will keep him in the Chinese empire sixteen months before he can again return to California.

DIES TRYING TO GET WARM

Flames From Stove Catch Four-Year-Old's Dress—Cannot Recover From Burns.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Four-year-old Catharine Lange is dying of burns in Lebanon hospital because yesterday was very cold.

The Lange family live at No. 737 East One Hundred and Fifty-sixth street. They are poor, and Mrs. Lange has the care of five young children. Yesterday she left Catharine by the stove in the kitchen while she went into a front room to bring the four other boys and girls to the only fire in the house.

But even this fire didn't heat very well, and while her mother was gone the little girl edged up closer to the open grate. A tongue of flame leaped out and caught her thin calico dress, and in a moment she was all ablaze.

Catharine screamed in fright, and her mother ran to her and tried to put out the flames with her bare hands. But though she burned herself severely she could not beat them out. She ran with the child in her arms to the hallway. Policeman Lenhard heard her cries and forced open the door. Catching the blazing child from its mother, he wrapped his heavy coat about it and thus put the fire out. The coat had to be used a second time, for the mother's dress was burning and she had fanned the flames as she rushed about the hallway.

The little girl was fearfully burned about the face and body, and at Lebanon hospital, where both she and her mother were taken, it was said she could not survive.

Patrolman Lenhard, though his own hands were badly burned, went on duty again after watching Mrs. Lange's four babies until their mother came back from the hospital.

THINKS HER BRAIN UNUSUAL

Woman Doesn't Care What Becomes of Body After Death; Wants Money.

RICHMOND, Jan. 7.—Mrs. M. H. Francis, who has offered to sell her brain to universities and colleges in this city, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York, and her body with it after her death to the highest bidder, in order that she may have the material comforts of life during her remaining years, said today:

"Yes; I do want to sell my brain, and I don't see why the colleges don't want to buy it. I need money and I need it badly. We are not in actual want, but we need money. I have heard of people selling their bodies and brains and I thought I would offer mine for sale. I don't care what they do with me when I am dead."

The woman is forty years of age and broken in health. She is the fourth wife of her husband, who was several years ago incapacitated for work by reason of an accident which deprived him of the use of one of his hands. Mrs. Francis said that she had heard that the students of medicine had access only to the brains and bodies of criminals and paupers, and that they had no idea that the gray matter of an intelligent person looked like. Hence she believed that her proposition to sell would meet with instant acceptance.

BAGS A SON-IN-LAW, WITH A SHOTGUN

CLARKSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Taking down his shotgun, Robert E. Chandler went to hunting for a son-in-law. It cost Chandler $25, for a magistrate decided that bridegrooms were not in season, and fined him for abducting the young man.

Rich Elam had been paying attentions to Bessie Chandler, but as he showed no indication of taking up matrimonial cares, the girl's father decided to hasten the marriage.

Accompanied by a cousin of the girl, "Papa Elam" Chandler, he went to a country store, where young Elam was telling a story. Standing in the doorway, the elder Chandler ordered the suitor to accompany him. Elam hastened.

On the way to the Chandler house, where a minister was waiting, Elam's father tried to rescue his son, but was driven off. Papa Elam hustled around and gathered up a crowd of twenty supporters to save the youth from matrimony. He then the three drove to the Chandler house the wedding

ROBBED AND BEATEN IN LONELY RAVINE

BIRDSBORO, Pa., Jan. 7.—Harvey Riegner, a butcher, was held up by highway robbers of $75 and a gold watch last night.

Riegner lives at White Bear, three miles from town, and was early last night returning from Birdsboro. When on the Hamilton, near an old stone quarry, his horse was stopped and two masked men pulled him out of the wagon and went through his pockets.

After getting what they wanted, the young man, badly frightened, was allowed to climb back in the wagon.

The place is a very lonely one in a ravine, and a few months ago, Isaac Jacobs, while driving, was stopped and robbed at the same place. A short distance to the left, on the same road, three men were assaulted, and $100 in quarries were assaulted, and $100 in quarries was taken from them. The foreigners showed fight, and they were badly beaten, one being struck with a piece of iron on the head. The State police are looking up the case.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES.

Young Elam then had his father-in-law arrested on a charge of abduction, and will try to annul the marriage.

A woman who does her own sewing has discovered a novel and simple way to prevent stitches showing through on right side of skirt in sewing on the braids. She rip one of the braids on the inner side of hem and inserts a stiff piece of cardboard a bit wider than the braid. This is slipped along easily as the work progresses and removed when the opening is reached.

Smart laundry bags, always acceptable as Christmas presents, are made this year not only of chintz and denim, but also of silk. A pretty design is to make an oblong bag and tie up the ends with ribbon bows. At the top, instead of the usual button and button-drawstring, two oval embroidery rings covered with shirred pieces of the material may be attached to either side of the bag. They make a stout handle that is desirable for a large bag.

A most attractive pillow for the baby's carriage is heart-shaped, with a frill all around and a bit of French embroidery on the center. This slip must be of very fine material with the work all done by hand, and the opening is straight across the back with hem and tiny buttons and buttonholes.

Silk puff bags, always desirable, are easy to make and are decidedly serviceable, for they keep dust and dirt from getting into the down. If shirred in narrow rows, with a drawstring of ribbon at the top and a ruffle of lace at the bottom, they are attractive and an ornamental addition to any dressing table or bureau.

If the shoulders are rather narrow it is best to have garters in the top of coat sleeves instead of buttons. These garters are more difficult to make than buttons and add greatly to the breadth of the figure, and if a good pattern is used, marking each part with the utmost care and following all directions as to fitting

SAVED FROM THE GALLOWS

Death 'Sentence' of Terrorists Commuted to Life Imprisonment by Forgery.

ODESSA, Jan. 7.—Six terrorists have been saved from the gallows by resourceful revolutionists here, who conceived the bold plan of utilizing the official cipher to hoodwink the governor. The terrorists had been tried by court-martial and sentenced to death or were awaiting execution when the governor received a cipher telegram from St. Petersburg, apparently bearing the signature of General Pavloff, the military procurator, conveying the Emperor's order to commute the death sentences to hard labor for life. The order was officially put in force but the authorities have now ascertained that it was a clever forgery on the part of the revolutionists, who by some means obtained access to the government code.

ALLOWS APPEAL IN MYERS' CASE

Judge's Action May Delay Execution of Missouri Woman Nine Months.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 7.—Judge J. F. Phillips, in the United States District Court here today, allowed an appeal to the United States Supreme Court from his decision rendered last week, when he denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus sought in the case of Mrs. Aggie Myers, under sentence of death January 10. The attorneys for Mrs. Myers express the hope that the appeal will delay the execution of the sentence about nine months.

Will of Late President of the Pennsylvania Railroad is Filed.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—The will of the late A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, containing two codicils, was filed today, disposing of his estate, unofficially estimated to be worth more than $5,000,000. The entire estate goes to the widow, three surviving children and two sons-in-law. To the widow he bequeathed all the personal property and most of the family residence properties. To Dr. James Hutchinson, husband surviving Mr. Cassatt's deceased daughter, the will bequeaths $50,000, and to William Plunkett, husband of Mr. Cassatt's living daughter, the same, but by a codicil this later was increased to $100,000. One codicil authorizes the executors to erect a new home adjoining the "Cheswold" estate for the use of his daughter, Mrs. Stewart. The residue of the estate is left in trust and forty per cent of the income to be paid to the widow and the remainder in equal shares to the three surviving children.

GLAM ROCK SHOWS ACTION

Fishermen Say Reef on Which Ship was Stranded Rises and Falls.

HONOLULU, Dec. 28, via San Francisco, Jan. 7.—It is declared by native and Japanese fishermen who ply their occupation in the neighborhood of Barber's Point, that the rock or reef on which the transport Sheridan was stranded, is what they call a "springing rock." They claim that at times it is much higher than at other times, rising and falling, as they explain it, by the action of substra, which sometimes forces it up and sometimes allows it to settle down.

FLING ASIDE PETTY THINGS

Rev. Brown Tells Congregation to Broaden Views During New Year.

Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church, preached a New Year's sermon yesterday morning from the topic: "A Motto for 1907." Rude made the attendance smaller than usual, but he was listened to with close attention by those who ventured forth despite the cold and wet.

Mr. Brown made a plea for a new view of life and the things that pertain thereto during the year just starting, appealing to his hearers to make their vision a spiritual one and to take an upward look that should put an entirely new aspect on all their affairs.

Said he: "Get a new angle to your vision, one that shall include God in its scope and that shall make the motive power of your existence a higher, loftier, nobler one. I never expect to meet the nearer God than I am now, or to see him any more clearly than I do now, except as I become better and purer. Fling aside the petty things that you have been absorbing; broaden your view and get your eye on things above during 1907, that you may see hold of the real, the vital things of life."

The speaker made a special plea for a devotion to prayer during the year and a use of its power, adding: "You have watched with astonishment the development of the automobile, the airship, the telephone, electricity, etc., and the unfolding of the many wonders of the scientific world, but here is something that, as a marvel, transcends them all. Its power is beyond the imagination of the man who has yet to tread its sacred ground and he who has not known its value as a moving compelling force will yield and the benefits that will accrue to himself, his family and his entire life and surroundings."

"JACK THE HUGGER" CAUGHT BY POLICE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—After scores of women in Bayville and Bayport, L. I., had been squeezed by a "Jack the Hugger," Deputy Fred Dietz went walking Saturday night with Mrs. Oliver La Cluse and Miss Maude Baldwin, of Bayport, to trap the man. They came upon a man standing in the shadow of a hedge whom Mrs. La Cluse declares was the man who had hugged her and her sister the night before.

When he was taken before Justice White, Mrs. La Cluse and other women testified the prisoner had hugged them. He said he was John B. Fluke, assistant superintendent on F. G. Bourne's Indian Neck estate at Oakdale. Fluke is married, with two children. Constable Bourne was surprised over the arrest.
